Short Description:

Watering plants and trees is essential for their growth and health. It involves providing the right amount of water to the roots, ensuring they receive enough moisture without becoming waterlogged. Plants and trees need consistent watering, especially during dry periods, to promote strong root development and maintain vitality. The frequency and amount of water depend on the type of plant, the weather, and soil conditions. Proper watering helps prevent stress, encourages blooming, and supports overall plant health.

Therefore, the Department of English conducted this activity to sustain the biological balance and conservation of trees. This activity is carried out with the Nature Club of Peth Vadgaon. All the faculty and students participated in this activity and also took the pledge to sustain the trees. Dr Suresh Patil, Head of the Department of English, along with colleagues viz Dr Amar Powar, Dr Prashant Yadav, and Mrs Madhavi Koli.
